The Risk of One-Time Training

- Emphasizes an unsustainable approach
 - Limiting belief: “One training will teach me all I need to know.”
- Reflects a one-size-fits-all, universal application
 - Limiting belief: “Everyone will use this the same way.”
- Fails to measure progress or improvement
 - Limiting belief: “Growth is a flipped switch, not a rising line.”
- Doesn't provide meaningful reinforcement
 - Limiting belief: “If someone cares enough, they will figure out how to do it.”

A Better Approach in Four Pillars

- Sustained Learning
 - New belief: “Learning is always a part of the work I’m doing as a leader.”
- Individual Application
 - New belief: “I can apply this. I WILL apply this. And it’s important that I apply this.”
- Targeted Development
 - New belief: “I know exactly what I need to work on to grow as a leader.”
- Shared Accountability
 - New belief: “I find belonging, encouragement, and support while working to grow alongside other leaders.”

Pillar One: Sustained Learning

- One event delivers information, but ongoing training cultivates and reinforces beliefs and values.
- The most effective leaders treat learning as a regular practice, not a one-time event.

Our Approach: Ongoing Training

- At Clear Path, we equip leaders to become lifelong learners through engaging, interactive training programs delivered in multiple formats.
- Our gift to you:
 - “Plan My Program” Tool. A curriculum builder that emphasizes the mindset and belief shift you want your leaders to make - not just the topics you’ll train on.
 - You won’t just uncover what you want your leaders to KNOW, but who you want them to BECOME.

Pillar Two: Individual Application

- Training teaches concepts, but the real ROI comes from application, which is always unique and contextual.
- The gap between "I learned this" and "I actually do this" closes fastest when leaders have personalized support to help them apply what they are learning in their actual environment.

Our Approach: Individual Coaching

- At Clear Path, we believe the greatest transformation comes from one-on-one coaching that fosters greater agency, ownership, performance, and fulfillment.
- Our gift to you:
 - “Talk Like a Coach” book. A practical field guide to incorporating coaching skills into your leadership style and asking coaching-style questions in everyday conversations.

Pillar Three: Targeted Development

- Two types of assessments:
 - Strengths assessments - “This is what I naturally do well.”
 - Competency assessments - “This is what’s currently going well.”
- Both assessments are important, but competency assessments are where most organizations have the greatest opportunity for growth.

Our Approach: Targeted Development

- At Clear Path, we assess leaders before, during, and after leadership development programs to identify growth opportunities, track progress, and ensure results.
- Our gifts to you:
 - “Ignite Your Leadership” Survey. A 44-question self-assessment designed to assess current strengths and growth opportunities.
 - “Ignite Your Leadership” Workbook. An interactive resource with 20 entries on key leadership topics, corresponding with the areas assessed in the survey.

Pillar Four: Shared Accountability

- If you plan to do something but keep it to yourself, it's much easier to get distracted or change your mind.
- Sustainable growth happens when leaders are surrounded by others who share the same commitment and are willing to support, encourage, and challenge one another.

Our Approach: Group Cohorts

- At Clear Path, we form small cohorts of leaders who meet together on a regular basis to share wins, discuss challenges, and set goals.
- Our gift to you:
 - “More Than a Workshop” Community. A free LinkedIn community for leaders and organizations committed to making leadership development an ongoing part of how they operate, not just a one-time event.
